Township Residents Take High Awards at County Fair

Washington Township held its distinction as Alameda County's leading agricultural area this week by winning the lion's share of awards at the annual Alameda County Fair.

The bulk of awards in the horticultural and agricultural divisions were copped by agriculturists of this area, with several local farms sweeping all of the awards in their particular competition.

In addition to an outstanding showing in the fruit and vegetable competition, many awards were also won by flower growers, cooks, livestock farms and artists in this area.

The Mission San Jose drill team won the first award in the parade and the Niles Sportsmen's Club won the first award for the most comic entry.

The California Nursery Company at Niles won first honors in the professional exhibits with its ornamental nursery stock.

Mrs. Ethel Grau, Niles artist, won awards on her exhibits in the watercolor still life and graphic arts.

Winners in the amateur floriculture division were: Donald Spetti, Niles, carnations, begonias, fuchsias, foliage plants and miscellaneous entries; Margaret Nelson, Niles, African violets, foliage plants, succulents and miscellaneous; Mrs. T. H. Elliott, Niles, succulents.

1949-50 TERMED NORMAL IN ANNUAL RAINFALL RECORD

Weather statisticians dug into their files this week and came up with the revelation that the 1949-50 fiscal year was about "normal," based on the average rainfall for the past nine years.

According to the records maintained at the Southern Pacific depot at Niles, 16.38 inches of rain fell here during the year just ended.

The 1949-50 total exceeded every yearly rainfall total here since 1944-45, when 20.24 inches was the season total.

Delving further into the yearly figures the statisticians pointed out that the average yearly decrease in rainfall since the 1941-42 fiscal year has been four inches. They then cited figures for the past three years and predicted that we are in the upward trend of a "wet" cycle.

No entries were noted in the precipitation log for the entire month of June and it is doubtful that the new year will have its first entry for several weeks.

The tabulations for the past nine years are as follows:

1949-50—16.38 inches
1948-49—13.07
1947-48—15.19
1946-47—11.43
1945-46—15.98
1944-45—20.24
1943-44—18.34
1942-43—23.38
1941-42—27.28

ALLEGED HATCHET WIELDER IN COURT

Mrs. Edith Pudwill, 39, Irvington housewife, stood before Judge Allen G. Norris in Centerville Justice Court last Friday and heard the reading of a complaint charging her with assault with a deadly weapon.

She appeared without counsel and was allowed a continuance of the case until July 7 at which time she is to enter a plea to the charge.

Her husband, Michael, 50, whom she is alleged to have struck on the head with the blunt end of a hatchet as he slept in their apartment last Sunday morning, was not present in court.

He was released from the hospital prior to the arraignment but is reportedly staying at the home of a sister.

BUILDING REMAINS AT RECORD PEAK

The number of building permits issued in Alameda County during the past month continued to hold at a record peak, slipping only slightly below last month's record of 585.

Marcus C. Carlson, building official, reported this week that his office had issued 580 permits during June, with an estimated valuation of $3,300,610.

Single family dwellings continued to lead all other types of buildings with permits totaling 407 for a valuation of $2,800,200.

Seventeen permits for new commercial buildings were issued, with a valuation of $159,000. Third in line for estimated costs were two new institution buildings with a valuation of $100,000.

CHAMBER DELEGATES TO MEET WITH COUNTY BOARD

All Chambers of Commerce of Washington Township were asked this week to send representatives to a meeting to be held with the Alameda County Board of Supervisors in their office at the court house at 2 p.m., July 11.

The meeting was called by Col. N. W. Armstrong, development secretary for the board, to discuss subjects to be featured in the forthcoming Alameda County booklet.

APRICOT HARVEST TO GET UNDERWAY HERE ON MONDAY

The annual apricot harvest will get underway in full scale in Washington Township Monday!

Local canneries expect to reopen the first of the week with light crews and gradually work into full production by the end of the week.

The Booth Cannery in Centerville will begin processing on Monday, according to M. J. O'Brien, superintendent, and will employ approximately 400 persons when the season hits its peak.

The Alaco Preserving Company, successors to the Marlo Packing Company at Decoto, will begin the processing of apricots the first of the week and is expected to employ approximately 200 persons.

The Schuckl Company at Niles will not process apricots but will open up with freestone peaches the last of this month.

The outlook, both for the growers and processors, is comparatively bright this year with the hold-over from last year at low ebb and the price expected to exceed last year's $60 average.

The supply of labor available to both growers and processors is reported good. Canneries all reported that they have adequate workers and the Farm Labor Employment office in Centerville has announced that there will be sufficient workers here to harvest the crop, but cutters are still needed.

Biggest headache to the employment office is locating adequate housing facilities for the itinerant workers.

DECOTO MAN FACES NEW CHECK CHARGE

The second charge in less than a year of fraudulently accepting unemployment compensation checks was filed against a Decoto farm laborer yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Richard Lynch.

The man is Francisco Valdez, 43, of 909 Eleventh Street, Decoto, who is charged with accepting unemployment checks totaling $93 while employed.

Valdez was sentenced to 40 days in the county jail last November after admitting that he had accepted $100 in unemployment checks while still working.

In imposing sentence, Justice of the Peace Jacob Harder Jr. ordered Valdez to make restitution to the state office in weekly payments.

Upon release from jail Valdez obtained employment and began making payments. Authorities claim, however, that he again applied for unemployment insurance while still working and paid back approximately $70 of the $100 from unemployment checks received.

$5 REWARD FOR RIGHT ANSWER

Bill Ramsey, attendant at the Musgrove and Son Filling Station at Niles, told a customer this week that his auto was probably heating up as a result of a poor fan belt, and ended up with an extra $5 in his pocket.

The customer drove into the station and stated that his car was heating up and asked Ramsey what he thought might be the trouble. Ramsey took a quick guess and came up with the right answer.

It so happened that the customer was the "Mystery Man" employed by a fan belt company to tour the country testing station attendants to determine if they are "fan belt conscious." If the attendant inspects the fan belt on the "Mystery Man's" car he is given $5.

The benefactor told Ramsey that he was the first of 22 attendants tested that day that had won the award.

TWO OF TOWNSHIP'S BURGLARIES SOLVED

Two of the township's recent burglaries were cleared from police records last Friday when the defendants appeared in local courts and entered pleas of guilty.

Arthur F. Faria, 38, of 681 Locust Street, Newark, appeared before Judge Allen G. Norris and admitted the theft of jewelry from the home of John Santos, Lincoln Road, Newark. The case was certified to Superior Court.

Two Decoto men, Ygnacio Quiros and Felix Mesa, appeared in Niles Justice Court and entered pleas of guilty to a charge of burglary. They were arrested on June 28 when sheriff's deputies surrounded a pool hall in Decoto, trapping the two would-be burglars inside the establishment.

Judge E. A. Quaresma certified the case to Superior Court in Oakland.

TOWNSHIP PRAISED FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

Washington Township residents contributed $2442 to the $154,364 "fight polio" fund raised in Alameda County during the March of Dimes campaign early this year.

In a report to E. D. Bristow and J. V. Goold, who led the drive here, Fred C. Wells, treasurer of the Alameda County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said that "the people of your community, by their generous awareness of the tremendously grave polio situation throughout the country.

A total of $68,306 has been forwarded to the National Foundation in New York to finance polio research, including that now going on at University of California and Stanford, and for epidemic relief. A like amount has been kept in the county chapter's treasury for direct aid to local polio victims.

PRIZE WINNERS . . . Three of the housewives who entered the baking contest at the Alameda County Fair and won prizes are shown inspecting the silver platter awarded to the winner of the chiffon cake contest. The prize-winners, life to right, are Mrs. Mary Machado, Pleasanton; Mrs. Frank Fields, Niles, and Mrs. Louise Baird, Livermore.

Discarded Refrigerator Becomes Death Trap for Local Youngster

Monday evening, Melton C. (Tony) Vigil, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manuel Vigil, 312 Seventh Street, Decoto, crawled into an unused refrigerator in the yard of his parents to hide from playmates. Some three hours later his body was discovered by his aunt, Mrs. Annafelia Vigil, 28, who lives next door.

The little victim had removed all of his clothing except his shorts as the heat inside the small porcelain prison mounted.

Tony was last seen about 5:30 p.m. when he entered the house to wash for dinner. He went outside again, and when he failed to return by 6:45 his father went to nearby Valle Vista and Niles to inquire of relatives if they had seen him.

Failing to find any trace of the youngster, the father returned home and was joined by members of the family and neighbors in the search.

FOUND BY AUNT

Shortly after 8:30 p.m. the aunt opened the door of the discarded refrigerator and discovered the body.

Sheriff's deputies were immediately summoned and gave artificial respiration until the Centerville and Ashland Fire Departments arrived with resuscitators. An ambulance from Hayward also answered the call with a resuscitator.

Assistant Fire Chief Frank Madruga and George Mahoney of Centerville worked over the boy until 10:30 p.m. when Dr. C. F. March, who had administered inter-cardiac and inter-muscular injections, pronounced the youth dead.

Only then did his mother, who had waited hopefully while firemen and doctors worked over him, collapse in tears.

DOOR SNAPPED SHUT

Firemen pointed out that the refrigerator was sitting at such an angle that the door would snap shut at the slightest jolt. There being no handle on the inside of the refrigerator and the insulation of the box serving as a muffle to his shouts, the little boy was hopelessly trapped while searchers walked about the yard.

There are two other boys in the family, Albert 4, and Cecil 9.

A blessing was held at the parlors of the Berge Mortuary Company in Niles Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

Interment was at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

SHERIFF ANNOUNCES FIRST ASSIGNMENT TO LOCAL STATION

The first assignment to what will eventually become the Washington Township sheriff's substation was announced this week by Sheriff H. P. (Jack) Gleason.

The first man to be assigned to this area, to operate out of the new substation when it is constructed this fall between Centerville and Niles, is Detective Lowell Creighton. Creighton, a resident of Niles, had previously been assigned to the Santa Rita prison farm.

Sheriff Gleason said yesterday that other assignments will not be made until the vacation schedules are completed at the end of August.

Tentative plans call for the assignment of a division chief and approximately 18 sheriff's deputies to the new unit.

In the meantime, the Alameda County Board of Supervisors has announced that they will budget the money for the construction of the building this month and actual construction is expected to get underway by early fall.

LOCAL COWBOYS IN HAYWARD RODEO

Three Washington Township cowboys are expected to participate in the First Annual Alameda County Rodeo on July 8 and 9 at the Harry Rowell Ranch arena in Dublin Canyon, Hayward.

The cow punchers who will vie with some of the top champions of the country are Emmet Sullivan of Niles, Carl Zwissig of Decoto and Norman Goossen of Warm Springs, all of whom participated in the recent Livermore Rodeo.

This week's rodeo is sponsored by the Alameda County Veterans of Foreign Wars Pup Tent No. 55, Military Order of the Cootie, as a benefit for hospitalized veterans and their needy families.

The event will feature personal appearances by Brooke Temple, the "Red Ryder' of the movies and radio.

Other highlights of the star-studded show will include appearances by Senor Jose de la Torre, Mexican cowboy trick rope artist; Felix Cooper of Sacramento, only Negro bull fighter in the West; Sammy Reynosa of Redwood City, cowboy clown, and outstanding trick and fancy riding artists.

DIES ENROUTE TO BEACH OUTING

An intended camping trip at Santa Cruz ended in tragedy on July 4 at Mission San Jose for the George Hammett family of Pittsburg.

The family was enroute to the beach resort early Tuesday morning when Mrs. Marion Gertrude Hammett, 43, took suddenly ill as the party approached Mission San Jose.

Mr. Hammett stopped the car at the Fig Tree Service Station in Mission and telephoned for a doctor. His wife died in a matter of minutes, before medical aid could reach her.

The body was taken to the Berge Mortuary in Irvington and later transferred to Pittsburg for funeral arrangements.

LITTLE LOSS IN BUILDERS' STRIKE

Only one day of work was lost on building projects in this area this week by the strike of the carpenters' union.

The carpenters employed by independent contractors reported for work Monday after nearly 70 of the contractors signed contracts meeting demands of the carpenters' union.

The new contracts gave the carpenters a 17½ cent and hour wage boost effective July 15, increasing the wage to $2.40 per hour. The contracts expire June 15, 1951.

Throughout the bay area all carpenters employed by members of the Associated General Contractors failed to show up for work. However, at a 2 p.m. meeting in San Francisco on Monday all differences were settled and the new contracts signed.

PLAY PROGRAM FOR NILES CHILDREN TO START JULY 17

The summer recreation program for Niles children, recently launched by the Niles Chamber of Commerce and subsequently carried on by the Niles school board of trustees, will get under way at the Niles school on July 17, according to E. D. Bristow, principal of the school.

Edward M. Turner, teacher at the school, has been hired as the recreation director, and will keep the summer program going on a schedule of five days a week, Mondays through Fridays, from one to five o'clock. Children of all ages are welcome to attend.

A program of sports will keep the youngsters happy for the first few days, and, if the demand warrants, there will also be crafts and other forms of recreation and play.

It is the first time that Niles has had a summer recreation program for children. It's success will, of course, depend on the type of program offered the children, the attitude of the parents, and the cooperation of the community with those in charge.

DELEGATES NAMED TO STATE CONCLAVE

Delegates to represent the Auxiliary of the Washington Township American Legion Post at the state convention in Sacramento from August 13 to 16 were named at last Wednesdays meeting of the local organization.

Named to represent the local unit were: Stella Benbow, Irvington; Florence Graber, Niles; and Betty Broun, Centerville. Alternates are: Betty Pool, Newark; Marion Zwissig, Decoto, and Mary Perry, Centerville.

It was announced that the Secret Pal Dinner, at which time the secret pals for the past year will be revealed, will be held the evening of July 26 at the International Kitchen. Mrs. Rose Vieux is general chairman.

Mrs. Benbow gave a brief report on her visit to Girls' State at Sacramento where the Auxiliary annually sponsors a girl from the township. She was accompanied on her visit by Betty Jacinto of Alvarado, last year's participant from the township. This yer's representative was Margaret Cole.

Getting to Grass Fire Proves to Be Thrilling Ride

By L. R. BATMAN

For thrills, we'll put our experience of last Monday afternoon against a parachute jump or a ride on the Santa Cruz roller-coaster.

This could have been a short news item about a fire burning over 70 acres of grazing land between Niles and Decoto and consuming two stacks of baled hay before being put out by township firemen. But it's going to be a different type of yarn than that.

We rode on one of the five fire engines.

The fire started at the Masonic Home and swept east behind a steady wind. The Decoto Fire Department was summoned; and the Pacific States Steel Co.'s new fire truck, as well as two county trucks were soon on the scene. Niles was there, too, although the fire was just outside of the Niles fire district.

Chief Clarence Crane of the Niles Department looked over the burning hillside, noted that there was danger of the fire sweeping out of control to the west, and directed Tom Estudillo, who was driving the truck, to turn into the road leading up to the Fereira ranch.

A ROUGH RIDE

This road is like a washboard. We hung on for dear life, to the truck with one hand and our camera with the other. Then we came to the end of the road.

The fire truck growled through a barnyard, a pasture of horses, and then was out in the wide open spaces. John Turner, Ralph Allen, John Musgrove and John Alves were kept running to haul aside wire gates for the truck to get through.

We took off up a hill at the steepest angle the truck could negotiate. Looking back, you'd swear a heavy piece of equipment couldn't climb like this—but it did.

ENGINE DIES

Once it stalled. While Tom Estudillo sweat over the starter to get under way again, the whole crew scurried for boulders to brace the wheels to keep them from rolling backward. Slowly we inched forward again and gathered speed.

Everyone ducked as a huge clump of poison oak brushed the side of the truck. We rolled up onto the crest of a hill. Below, as though seen from an airplane, was Niles; and over to the west was the fire. We headed that way.

The fire truck moved like a mountain goat. From far below it probably looked like one as it raced over terrain that would make a good roller-coaster for an amusement park.

AT LAST

We reached the fire area. By now the men of the Decoto department, the steel mill and the county trucks had brought the flames under control. Their faces were blackened; some had torn shirts and trousers; all were wringing wet with sweat.

Chief Crane's men went to work with spray outfits and hoses and relieved them of putting out the last traces of fire.

We looked over the hilltops at hundreds of acres of good grass that had been saved.

We thought it would be good if every taxpayer in the community could have taken this trip, too. Does the average person realize the service performed by a volunteer fireman?

It took three hours to conquer Monday's grass fire. Men had left their jobs and businesses to do a job for their community—without pay.

As we left for town, Chief Crane told us: "You know, it would be a good thing if these farmers would bulldoze some sort of roads through these hills so we could get in quicker to fight these grass fires. See that hill? Well, once we had to fight a grass fire over there. This same truck, too."

We looked over at the other hill, across a deep draw. We looked at the fire truck.

Impossible, we thought. But then we changed our mind.

We knew that this crew of volunteer firemen could take this truck to fight any fire anywhere.

HOMES STARTED IN MISSION GARDENS

The three model homes now under construction in Mission Gardens, the new tract recently opened by the Atlas Developers of Oakland, will be completed and open to the public in about three weeks, according to Jerome B. Becker, production manager for the company.

The three homes are located at the corner of Mission Road and Olive Avenue and will be completely furnished for the opening.

Becker said yesterday that the company plans to construct 239 homes in the first unit, but expects to eventually construct 1,000 homes in the area. Also included in the plans are a shopping center, swimming pool and recreation center.

The homes, all priced below the $8,200 bracket, will be constructed in the tract on both sides of the Irvington-Mission highway between Palm and Olive avenues.

"We selected the Mission San Jose site for our subdivision, after many months of survey, because we believe it to be the most beautiful and best climated area in the entire east bay," Becker said.

Play in the Washington Township Softball League was suspended for a two weeks' vacation period following last Friday evening's double-header.

After the players have enjoyed a two weeks' lay-off, play will be resumed on July 17.

The final two evenings of play in the first half of the season resulted in no changes in the standings of the ten teams playing in the two leagues.

Last Thursday evening Kraftile climbed another notch nearer the league-leading YMI club by rumping Fricks 8 to 6. Kleines, stinging from two defeats, got back into stride and scored an easy win over Westvaco 8 to 2.

Friday evening Central Chevrolets had no trouble with Westvaco, scoring a 9 to 0 shutout. YMI remained at the top of the ladder with an easy win over Wedgewood, 10 to 3.

3-GAME SERIES WON BY IRVINGTON CLUB

The Irvington Merchants won their first two games of a three-game series with the Lakeshore Club at Clear Lake over the week-end holiday, but were soundly beaten in the third encounter.

Manager Frank Mayer's club came from behind in the opening game, on July 2, to score three runs in the 9th inning and grab a 7 to 6 victory.

Sabe Elizarrey opened the game by hitting the first pitch out of the ball park. Lynch worked the mound for the Irvingtonites and turned in a stellar performance, chalking up 14 strike-outs and allowing but 7 hits.

The Irvington lads had a field day at the plate on July 3 by banging out 23 hits, to score a 17 to 10 victory. Tony Dutra hurled for the Mayermen and was touched for 16 hits. The Irvington onslaught was led by Lynch, Berrios and Dutra who each got 4 hits for 4 times at the plate.

The July 4th game will go down in the Irvington score book as a black day for the locals. All was going well until the fifth inning when the roof literally fell in on the Irvington lads.

The Lakeshore boys hit every offering of John Garcia, Sabe Elizarrey and Bud Marshall before Tony Dutra took over and put out the fire. When the smoke had cleared the lake club had crowded 14 runs across the plate and the score sheet revealed that six men had walked, two batters had been hit by pitched balls, Irvington had committed one error and the four pitchers had been rapped for 6 hits.

Said Manager Mayer after the series, "We had a great time. We were treated swell by the players, fans and residents there and were invited to return for another series."

Next Sunday the Irvington club will journey to San Bruno for their first meeting with that club this season.

FARMERS HERE AID ORCHARD CONTROL

Joe Maciel and Peter Rabagliati of Niles have corrected a mottled, varigated, or "Zebra" leaf condition caused by a deficiency of manganeze in their apricot orchards, announces Farm Advisor Lee Benson.

Similar trees in the Niles-Centerville area can be brought back to health by spraying during the last of April with two pounds of manganeze sulphate per 100 gallons of water. The material costs but fifteen cents per 100 gallons of mix. To date no experimental data is available to apply manganeze in the dormant season. This nutrient, or fertilizer, is actually absorbed by the leaves after the foliage spray.

These recommendations can be made with safety after experimental test conducted by Benson with Manuel Freitas, Manuel Bernardo, M. D. Soito, Earl Wallace, Clarence Oliveiria, and Joe Maciel, all in the Niles-Centerville area, last year.

TROUT ANGLERS TAKE LIMITS

Trout anglers have been taking limits during the past few days from Lake Alpine up in Alpine County. Most of the fish have been running to a fair size.

'THE DRUNKARD' NOW IN OAKLAND

There were gay festivities at the gala opening of the famous 106-year-old stage play, "The Drunkard," last night at the Century Theater, formerly the City Club Theater, 14th and Alice Sts., in Oakland.

This was the first time the original production of "The Drunkard" ever has been presented in the East Bay area during this present generation and Pete A. DeCenzie is the producer.

As always at "The Drunkard," the audience sits at tables enjoying free refreshments during every performance of this laugh-fest. Also in accordance with a century-old tradition, the hilarious play will be followed by a number of top-notch vaudeville acts. These will include the popular Gay Blades, harmony-singing comedians; Enrico Benducci, concert singer-violinist; Robert Nelson, musical comedy singer; and the inevitable Can-Can Girls in their naughty dance, a time-honored show-stopper.

Anthony LeCicero heads the cast of favorites appearing in "The Drunkard." He is supported by Barbara Bogart, Leo Leondard, Rod Kurry, Doris Brous, Norma Christian and Charles Glick.

This show will be presented at the Century Theater nightly at 8:30 p.m., excepting Monday. Tickets are available at Sherman-Clay in Oakland or at the theater box office.

Arrangements for those who wish to give special birthday, wedding or anniversary parties can be made at the latter box office. Such parties constitute another old custom at "The Drunkard" as does also the Drunkard Singing School in which the audience participates.

Thinking Things Over . : :

By VIVIAN BATMAN

THIS 'N' THAT

The traffic congestion in Niles on a Wednesday night is approximating that of Hollywood and Vine, or Market and Powell, or—well, you name your own favorite traffic-jamming spot. But anyhow, it all goes to show how much appeal a free dish has. One woman drives all the way down to the Niles Theater from Stockton every Wednesday for her dish. It's true, so help me! . . . The Decoto boy who was trapped in an abandoned refrigerator adds his name to the long list of fatalities which have occurred under similar circumstances. An abandoned refrigerator, like an abandoned well, is as dangerous around a yard with children as a loaded shotgun. . . . Ann Howe, the Niles librarian, has revealed a rather interesting sidelight on local school teachers. According to her, the school teachers here do more reading than do teachers in any other small community in which she has been employed. This includes several in Massachusetts. . . . Although everybody didn't agree about the relative merits of the exhibits at the County Fair, they did agree on one thing. To a man, the comment was: "Whew! But it was HOT." . . . Ethel Grau, Niles artist, is feeling pretty proud this week. Her blue ribbon awards at the Fair amounted to $100 in cold cash! Gone are the days, it seems, when artists live in garrets, and on a bread and water diet. . . . People who ordinarily never think of pulling down their window blinds or drawing their draperies will take great pains to do these things when they leave on a vacation. In a sense, it says to any interested burglar: "Look, bud, we're on our vacation. Just help yourself to anything on the premises." . . . The town of Decoto which has more or less appropriated the thriving new community of Tareyton is expanding so rapidly that shortly there will have to be a North Decoto and a South Decoto, not to be confused with the states of a similar name.

Move to Newark

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mara and two daughters have moved from their home in Canyon Heights to a place in Newark. The move was made to facilitate business dealings for Mr. Mara, who owns a home-furnishing store in Newark.

In the Northwest

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Elliott, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Howard Overacker and son Guy, are vacationing on a motor trip to the northwest. They expect to be gone for two weeks.

Guests from Chicago

Mrs. Paul Harter of Canyon Heights returned this week after a 17-day visit in San Diego, where her husband is stationed. Accompanying her was her house-guest, Mrs. Veronica Såtkoff, now of Chicago but recently of Hawaii. Mrs. Satkoff's daughter, Joan Garrick, is expected to arrive in Niles from Chicago this evening, and will also be a guest of Mrs. Harter.

The Harters' son, George, is expected to leave for the fighting zone in Korea at the end of this week. He is with the Navy.

Attend Open House

Jim and Louise Fitzhugh were in San Francisco Saturday attending an open-house of a recently remodeled and redecorated seven-story guest house at Bush and Taylor Streets. Their interest in the affair lay chiefly in the fact that the redecorating had been done under their supervision. The couple has a paint and decorating shop in Niles.

Niles Women Leave On European Trip

Mrs. Nora Rogers and Mrs. Fleecie Gomes, both of Niles, left Oakland via train Monday for a ten-weeks' tour of Europe. They will make the trip along with the 263 other bay area residents making the Holy Year pilgrimage with Archbishop John J. Mitty of San Francisco.

The pilgrims will depart from New York on July 7 aboard the Atlantic and will dock in Barcelona, Spain. Their tour will include visits to England, Ireland, Switzerland, Belgium, Austria, Germany, France, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

Commented Mrs. Rogers prior to their departure, "We shouldn't get lost as our compartment is next to Archbishop Mitty, his mother and sister."

Two Niles couples—Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Brunelli and Mr. and Mrs. George Burr—have an unusually interesting vacation planned. They will leave Sunday, will motor up to the northwest and over to Lake Louise and Banff, taking in all the interesting sights and magnificent scenery enroute, then will travel on to Flint, Michigan, where they will see Richard Brunelli graduate from General Motors Institute on August 4.

Richard, who has been here in Niles for the past six weeks, will return to Flint today to prepare for his graduation. He will join his parents and the Burrs on their return trip home. They plan to see Yellowstone on the way back, among other scenic spots that their itinerary calls for. They will be gone a month altogether.

Niles Librarian Returns from East

Miss Ann Howe, Niles librarian, returned last Sunday via plane from a month's trip to the east coast, where she visited her mother and sisters, and other relatives and friends. She enjoyed her visit immensely, but was glad to get back to Niles. "I had forgotten how hot it gets back there," she said, "and it's dirtier back there too." She added, "But I had also forgotten how lovely the Cape is. Anyone who has never been to Cape Cod is missing one of the loveliest places in America."

While she was in New York City she spent an evening at the fabulous Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe.

Drakes Entertain

Mr. August Russell of Madera is visiting at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Drake in Irvington. He plans to spend the summer, returning about August 21.

Last Friday the group motored to Santa Cruz to spend the day at the beach.

Saturday and Sunday they had as their guests Mrs. Drake's sister, Mrs. Mary Maderios of Los Banos and daughter Rose and her husband, Gene Dembrosia.

FORMER WYNI DIAS AND BRIDEGROOM AT LAKE TAHOE FOLLOWING NUPTIALS

Corpus Christi Church in Niles was decorated with white gladiolas, white stock, and Esther Reed daisies, when, at 10:30 o'clock last Saturday morning, Wyni Dias walked down the aisle to become the bride of Adolph Enos.

Looking like a story-book bride in her white slipper satin and lace gown, which was the perfect foil for her brunette beauty, Wyni, escorted by her father, was preceded to the altar by her two cousins, Charlotte Janeiro, the honor attendant, and Harriet Dias.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a bodice of lace, and net yoke which was edged with seed pearls. A train fell from the skirt which was designed with lace peplum. A finger-tip veil was held in place by a tiny lace skull-cap. She carried a prayer book and marker of white orchids and bouvardia.

The two attendants were gowned in yellow lace over satin. They, too, made a picture with white daisy wreaths in their hair, repeated in the white daisy baskets they carried.

Mrs. F. E. Dias, the bride's mother, selected a black and aqua print for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Romeo Brunelli, in whose home the bridegroom has been living since his own parents died, was gowned in a light blue knit. She also wore an orchid.

The best man was Richard Brunelli, and ushers were Clifford Dias and Leonard Smith.

Mrs. Clarence Crane was at the organ for the ceremony, which was performed by Father McEnery, and Mrs. Ellen Bornholp of Lafayette (the former Antoinette Botello of Centerville) was the soloist.

After the wedding, a reception was held for about 150 guests in the gardens at the Dias home on Fremont Avenue. The recently-completed patio served as the focal point for the festivities. It was there that the table was set, with a white lace cloth on which were placed two tall white floral arrangements, flanking the bride's cake. The arrangements were done by Mrs. Thomas Power of Centerville.

After a week's honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the justweds will return to Niles to make their home. The new Mrs. Enos will resume her teaching career at the Irvington School this fall. Mr. Enos is employed with the county.

SHIRLEY MARRIOTT NAMES ATTENDANTS; TO BE MARRIED SUNDAY, JULY 16

Shirley Marriott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Marriott, has been very busy for the past few weeks in a round of pre-nuptial entertaining in her honor, prior to her wedding on Sunday, July 16, to Stanley Maffey.

Mrs. Val Tuchsen and Mrs. Ray Truscott combined forces recently and gave her a miscellaneous shower, at Mrs. Tuchsen's home, the former Waltenberger place in Centerville. Mrs. Robert Albertini of El Cerrito also gave Shirley a shower. She is a former classmate of Shirley's at the University of California.

For her honor attendant at the wedding Shirley has asked her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Marriott. Bridesmaids will be Shirley Alameda and Doreen Maffey, and Cynthia Goodwin will be the junior bridesmaid.

The best man will be Ted Leavenworth of San Jose, the bridegroom's cousin; and ushers will be Bob Castle of San Luis Obispo and Charles Marriott.

The ceremony will be performed at St. Joseph's Church in Mission San Jose at 3:30 o'clock, after which a reception will be held at the Marriott home. The couple will then leave for a two weeks' honeymoon and return to make their home in San Jose, where both are employed, he with the Equitable Life Insurance Company and she as a secretary.

This Saturday evening the Maffey family and the Marriott family will get together at a dinner party honoring the young couple.

THEY WILL LEARN

It seems that a few boys paid the consequences of too much sunburn. Not mentioning any names, but four boys motored to a nearby beach and lost themselves among the sand, waves and (oh-la-la) pretty maidens in swimsuits. Well, boys, let it be a lesson well remembered.

NEW CARS

Mrs. Bessie Borghi, Frank and Franza Borghi are riding smoothly in brand new cars.

TO SUNNYVALE

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Hidalgo and children motored to Sunnyvale last Sunday evening.

AT TIA JUANA

Tia Juana was "old home week" during the holiday when Alvin and Tony Paniagua and three boy friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Garcia of 14th street, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arribas, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Garcia, Mr. and Mrs. John Munoz and Mr. and Mrs. Enos Delgado all motored or flew down to have a wonderful time in the south.

HOLIDAY AT STOCKTON

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Janeiro spent the Fourth of July holiday at Stockton with relatives.

TO MANTECA

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gonzales motored to Manteca Sunday to see their sons who are visiting their grandparents for the summer.

SEE ICE FOLLIES

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Castro of Centerville and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Alameda enjoyed the evening performance of the Ice Follies last Sunday.

CAR CRASHES HOUSE

Last Sunday, in the wee hours of morn, a speeding car carrying several local boys, went out of control, clipped a pole, drove through a hedge and crashed into a corner of the Janeiro home on Railroad Avenue. Another one of the reasons why that street should be quickly widened.

PINOCHLE CLUB

Sixteen hands of pinochle were played last Saturday evening when the Pinochle Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parks of Eleventh Street. Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Mara of Canyon Heights, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Costa, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Don Morgan of San Lorenzo, Florence Wallace and Linda Cunha, a guest. Tony Costa won high, Mrs. L. Watkins second, and Linda Cunha low. Cake, ice cream, fruit jello and coffee were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of the Don Morgans in San Lorenzo.

ATTEND WESTVACO PICNIC

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seoane Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bettencourt, Tony Ramos and girl friend, Mr. and Mrs. Metro Rebiejo and children, all from here, joined the fun at Linda Vista Park last Saturday when Westvaco held their annual picnic. Swimming was enjoyed before the delicious steak dinner. At night hamburger bun sandwiches were passed out. Many prizes were awarded.

GO TO FAIR

Your reporter and children were among spectators at the Alameda County Fair parade at Pleasanton, scorching away and trying to be comfortable while the hour-long parade came in reveiw. What attracted my children's attention most of all was their Daddy, who rode in the new convertible of Frank Borghi. Also riding were Louie Pagan, Gonzales Paniagua and Henry Borghi. The weather was much too warm and none of the boys could concentrate on the parade. Could that float of bathing beauties riding ahead of the boys have anything to do with the distraction? Hem! I wonder.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Olivieria and Mrs. Oliveria's brother, David Perry, came to "pick up" Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cordeiro for a dinner at the Oliveria home in Alameda last Sunday. The dinner was in celebration of Mr. Perry's arrival from Honolulu last Saturday morning. The Cordeiros were decorated with lovely carnation leis. Aloha!

AT THE FAIR

Harry Hernandez and Eddie Delgado spent a day at the fair last Sunday.

NEW CAR

The Manuel Ferrerias of Niles Road are owners of a new light brown car.

AT YOSEMITE

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rebiejo and children, Mr. Rebiejo's sister and cousin of Ashland spent the holiday at Yosemite.

FISHING

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Delgado and family spent their time away so Mr. Delgado could do some fishing on the Sacramento River last Sunday.

RECOVERING

Roberta Steinhauer is recuperating from pneumonia which kept her in bed for a spell.

HOME FROM CLEAR LAKE

Alvin Paniagua and Eddie Delgado recently returned from a week's vacation at Clear Lake. The boys put in quite a few miles and really had fun.

The Al Rodrigues' are enjoying their vacation at Yosemite.

FOURTH AT SEQUOIA

Jimmie Fine and Chas. Janeiro of Niles spent the Fourth of July holiday at Sequioia National Park.

RIDES IN PARADE

That little gal on the San Leandro float at the fair parade was none other than Ida Paniagua of Decoto. She also danced "Espani Cani" yesterday at the fair when it was Washington Township Day. Her companion on the float, other than the bathing beauties, was Johnny Castro, 14, of San Leandro. Spectators at the parade were entertained by his accordion solos while the float glided along. Johnny and Ida rode again on the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce float on the 4th in the large celebration parade there. Johnny is a trophy winner and also is a pupil of Pepita De Cordoba of Oakland. Both he and Ida have great talent and should indeed be encouraged. Ida won first prize on Thursday, June 22, and in the amateur show at the Decoto Theater. Her first dance was with Marlene Bolivia and the second dance was "Espana Cani," her solo number. Good luck, Ida, for future dance numbers.

LIBRARY CLOSED

The Decoto Library will be closed from July 11 to 17, inclusive.

FISHING

Manuel Flores and brothers-in-law spent the week-end at Monterey fishing.

STEAK BARBECUE

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Delgado and children, Mr. and Mrs. Costa Delgado and children and Mr. and Mrs. F. Sanchez and children joined together on the Fourth for a steak barbecue at Elderberry Park in the Niles Canyon.

GO TO EUROPE

Mrs. Nora Rogers of the Nursery Road left Monday for a three months' European tour that will take her to nine countries. She and Mrs. Fleecie Gomes of Niles will sail July 7 on the Atlantic from New York as members of the Archbishop Mitty tour and will return here on September 10. It will be the first trip outside California for Mrs. Rogers. She and Mrs. Gomes were entertained extensively at farewell showers during the past few weeks.

IN FAIR PARADE

Henrietta Cambra carried the flag of the Stars and Strips when she and the Southern Alameda County Horsemen's Association rode proudly in the Alameda County Fair Parade at Pleasanton.

BIG REDUCTION IN DAMAGE ON THE S. P.

Claims for loss and damage to freight handled by Southern Pacific's western lines were reduced by more than 30 per cent last year, or approximately 70,000 claims, as compared with the previous year, Len Mayrisch, the railroad's manager of freight protection and station service, said this week.

Southern Pacific has invested millions of dollars in mechanizing its handling of less-than-carload shipments and in developing protective containers of superior design. The company gives free packaging and loading advice to shippers and maintains a laboratory for testing materials.

For a time during 1861, Montgomery, Alabama, was the Confederate capitol.

IRVINGTON HIRES 3 NEW TEACHERS

Three of the four vacancies in the teaching staff of the Irvington Elementary School were filled this week, according to Gus Robertson, district superintendent.

The new eighth grade teacher, replacing James Howden, is Richard Mancuso, who is well known here, having assisted the coaching staff at Washington Union High School during the time that he was taking his practice teaching here from San Jose State College.

Two sisters, Marie Esther and Astrid E. Wettin, of San Francisco, have been hired to succeed Miss Mary Virginia Bristow and Miss Charlotte Sandorf, who resigned to accept positions with other schools.

Both of the sisters attended San Francisco City College, San Francisco State College and the University of California, majoring in history, science, music and speech.

bad news
...for all of us!

It was a tough break for a great many people when the Switchmen's Union of North America decided to go out on strike rather than join the Western Pacific and four other railroads in accepting the 40-hour week and $1.44 a day pay increase recommended by the Emergency Board (Utah Supreme Court Chief Justice Roger I. McDonough; University of California Professor of Economics Gordon S. Watkins; Indiana Supreme Court Judge Mart J. O'Malley) appointed by President Truman.

It was a tough break for business travelers and vacationists, for shippers and receivers of merchandise and agricultural products, and for this railroad and the railroad industry as a whole. And it was an especially tough break for our 4300 non-striking employees.

When 200 of our switchmen were called out on strike by their union leaders who rejected the findings of the Emergency Board and still insist on 48 hours pay for a 40-hour week (an average increase of $2.48 a day), they knew that their walk-out meant that we would be forced to discontinue the jobs of 4300 non-striking fellow employees.

common sense left us no choice but to close up shop and stop operating the railroad. Shippers cannot afford to do business with a strike-bound railroad; most passengers don't care to travel on a strike-bound railroad; many union men won't cross a picket line regardless of the issues involved.

with extreme reluctance we are forced to give practically all our other employees a "vacation without pay" for the duration of the strike. We are well aware that it's tough to get along without a weekly pay envelope, but we had no choice in the matter. Obviously, we can't keep on meeting a monthly payroll amounting to $1,600,000 when our freight and passenger revenues have dropped to zero.

UNITED FRONT ON KOREA

No one knows what the Korean situation will lead to—no one, that is, but the Moscow leaders. But regardless of the eventual outcome of the Korean war the emergency has served to unite members of both parties here in America in a firm determination to resist the unprovoked aggression. The attack has also welded the democratic elements in the United Nations more closely together.

There can be little doubt that the decision of President Truman to give active aid in Korea has the backing of the American people. We've seen too much in years not long past of the results of the failure to act swiftly and forcefully in similar situations. In view of this and in view of our obligation to the people of South Korea there was no other honorable choice.

If war should come as a result of our action it will involve only a matter of timing, because we have learned that to keep hands off while aggressors carry out one step after another of their greedy plans only leads to war eventually anyway. By leaping in now with both fists we may make a lasting impression on the Kremlin and thus prevent a full scale conflict later.

We do not relish sending our men and machines into Korea. We do not like to contemplate the losses that may be incurred. But there is great progress to be seen in our maturing concept toward our proper world responsibilities in the fact that we are moving in without hesitancy and that the American public strongly approves of that move.

The FARMERS CORNER

by Ralph H. Taylor

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Lobbying! In the august halls of the State Capitol at Sacramento . . . and in the stately chambers of the United States Congress . . . the word "lobby" has been portrayed to the general public as being synonymous with sin. "Lobbying" has become something every public official can thunder against at a time when a little favorable publicity is needed, when public attention need be diverted from other matters, or just when things are generally dull.

The subject has come to a head in California. During the special session of the Legislature last December, Assembly Bill 5 was enacted into the state statutes to regulate legislative representation—lobbying.

That measure, enacted in pre-Christmas haste, however, generally was recognized as too indefinite—and in some respects too restrictive—in its attempts to regulate the influencing of legislation. Consequently, the First Extraordinary Session of 1950 was called on March 6 to remedy defects and to add further restrictive regulation which the Governor felt was necessary. Four new Assembly Bills were enacted, making the new and present lobby law.

At this point, it is imperative to realize that long prior to the enactment of lobby legislation in December and in March, laws were on the books prohibiting improper lobbying practices. In fact, anyone guilty of illegal lobbying was liable for fine and imprisonment.

The recently enacted lobby measures will not prohibit improper practices that were not already prohibited by law! They only restrict and hamper the opportunity of good citizens to be adequately and effectively represented at Sacramento when legislation affecting their interest is being considered.

The Federal and State Constitutions guarantee citizens the "right of petition." In a free country one of the most important rights of every citizen is that of freedom of speech to discuss all problems of government with those who make the laws.

It is a fact, too, that a legislative advocate, a lobbyist of any kind, cannot improperly influence honest legislators. A member of the California legislature publicly made the statement that the remedy for bad lobbying lay in sending good men to the Legislature who could not be improperly influenced.

Is it startling, then, that other members of the Legislature have stated that California's lobby legislation was framed in hysteria and is not sound?

The danger of California's recently enacted lobby law is not that it wraps the activities of a ghost-like group of Sacramento lobbyists in red tape. Nor is the fault so much with the fact that the law neglected to cover public officials, some of whom do more intensive and effective lobbying in a legislative session than the full-time, paid lobbyists.

The critical peril is that this legislation, a political expedient, strikes at the fundamental root of our form of government—the unabridged right of individuals to petition their elected representatives. For restrictions on that right clearly discourage the citizen in his use of that right.

One example of the present law will suffice to illustrate the point: If a person is employed by another or even receives nothing but expenses from another and if he even occasionally speaks to a legislator concerning his employer's interest concerning legislation—even though it may be in his own home town—he must, before so doing, be registered as a legislative representative and fulfill all the requirements placed upon such persons.

In other words, A may be the employee of B, a producer of some farm commodity. Before A may speak to a legislator or the Governor, or write any of them, in any way attempting to influence them concerning any legislation in which his employer might have any interest, he must be registered.

Ridiculous? When B employed A, was it expected that he would do all things necessary to protect the interests of his employer and if so, would that include discussing proposed legislation with legislators or the Governor? The presumption would be that if he does contact a legislator in the course of his employment, he is employed by the employer to do it as one of his duties and he would then be required to register!

This illustrates the way in which one set of provisions in the new act places in jeopardy the individual's constitutionally guaranteed "right of petition." Taken all together, the clauses make it obvious that as a weapon for controlling illegal lobbying, California's new law provides a shotgun in place of a rifle—and makes mandatory the use of the shotgun!

At the LIBRARY

By ELAINE HOWE

Hammock swinging weather is back with us, and there are some books which should fit right into the relaxed, hot-weather mood. I don't guarantee you'll like them all—reading tastes differ as much as people—but I enjoyed each of these.

The family is always a subject of great interest to readers. Here is a family worth thinking about after you've finished Jane Eklund's "The Only Gift." A father, secure in his knowledge that he always knew what was best for his children, moulded them irrevocably in his pattern—a mother, who loved and lived in her children so completely she lost herself—and the children themselves, now adult and able to judge what their parents did to them as well as for them.

For a real chuckle try Bill Lederer's "All the Ships at Sea." Remember "Mr. Roberts"? A regular navy officer is quoted as saying, "It's just as bad as Mr. Roberts, and I hate it twice as much." This is the story of Lederer's career in the navy, and head-on collisions with navy SOP. Bill usually came out on top too. Tall tales maybe, but amusing and so readable.

"Debby," by Max Steele, is a delightful tale—and a Harper prize novel. Debby is a little creature, not always of this world, who came to live with the Merrills and help with the children. And it's children she's most at ease with, since she was nearest that age herself. Debby is always real and understandable. Though she doesn't always understand what goes on around her, she has flashes of real perception—denied most ordinary adults.

A good mystery novel is the whipped cream on this collection of good things to read, and "Brat Farrar" by Josephine Tey fills the bill. Brat finds he is a dead ringer for a long disappeared heir to a wealthy English stud firm. His love of horses overcomes his scruples—he lands in a greater mystery and its resolution makes an exciting tale. This author will be remembered for her outstanding novel of last year, "The Franchise Affair."

PERSONAL TAX CUT IS OPPOSED

Harry Bartell, chairman of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, this week recommended to the other members of the board that they oppose the proposed state initiative asking for removal of personal property from the tax rolls.

Bartell represented Alameda County at a state-wide hearing on the proposition held last week in Los Angeles.

He stated that the small homeowner would be carrying the burden of future increased taxes if the personal property such as furniture, etc., was taken off the tax rolls. The small homeowner would face a higher tax on other property, such as real estate.

Following the meeting in Los Angeles, Bartell stated that the entire subject was falsely presented to those who signed a petition which places the proposition on the November ballot.

"If the proposed constitutional amendment were adopted by the voters, real estate property owners would be forced to pay an additional $50,000,000 in taxes, to replace the loss to the counties of about 20 per cent in revenue from existing personal property taxes," Bartell concluded.

Fred Bagshaw, chairman of the Tax Committee of the State Supervisors Association, addressing the Interim Committee, called attention to the fact that California's billion dollar budget has forced the sales tax, bank and corporation tax, personal income tax, motor vehicle taxes and fees, inheritance and gift taxes, insurance premium taxes, liquor taxes, etc., to the breaking point.

MISINFORMATION ON SOCIAL SECURITY

"Hearsay, guesswork and chance are three simple ways to gain incorrect information about social security," says Victor C. Broome, manager of the Oakland field office of the Social Security Administration.

"All too often cases come to our attention where benefits have been lost because of misinformation picked up on the streets, or from friends and neighbors. This information, while it may have been correct in one case, was not properly applied in the second case. In most of these instances this loss of benefits could have been avoided if proper inquiry had been made at our office," Broome said.

He added that in order to be sure, a worker who has reached age 65, or the family of a deceased worker, should contact the nearest office and ask about how this program applies in their case. For answers to questions, write or phone the Social Security Administration, Room 201, post office building, Oakland.
